This week on Nunavimiut: Junior Rangers 2003

This week will be a big week at TNI. I will start by telling you all that the Nunavimiut season started on October 5th 2004. The episode that aired was The Arpik Jam 2003, Part 1.

This week, on October 12th and again on October 14th, Nunavimiut will feature the Junior Ranger 2003.

Fishing, hunting game and fowl, making bannock, early morning push-ups, marching drills, dressing straight lines, compass and map reading, treasure hunts, landmark recognition, collecting drinking water, skinning animals, drying meat and so much more can be experienced by the Junior Rangers who attend this camp. Funding provided by National Defense, the many volunteers tell their side on the success of this camp and also provide insight on the positive benefits reaped by the attending youth. The youth also express their love of it all.

Make sure you tune in to APTN on Tuesday, October 12th at either 10:00am, 3:00pm or 6:30pm. You can also tune in and watch it on Thursday, October 14th at 8:00pm.

I have a "good news" announcement to make, Evie Mark, who has been greatly missed by everyone here is coming back to work on October 12th! Welcome back Evie!!

Oh ... also, don't forget that Monday is Thanksgiving day, and also a holiday! So if its Monday and you're reading this at work, GO HOME!

Since Monday is a holiday, don't forget to send in your time sheets on

Urban Warriors

An English, a French, and a Inuk are sitting together in a bar in Kuujuaq. The English tosses back his shot of tequila, throws the half-full bottle up in the air, pulls out a gun, and blows it to pieces. The other two, shocked, just stare at the English. He explains, "Where I come from, we have plenty of tequila."

The French, not to be outdone, finishes his glass of wine, tosses the half-full bottle up in the air, pulls out a gun, and blows it apart. "Where I come from," he explains, "we have plenty of fine wine."

The Inuk guy slowly drinks the last drop of his beer, tosses the empty bottle in the air, pulls out a gun, and shoots the French between the eyes. He then catches the bottle on the way down. "Where I come from," he says slowly, "we never waste booze-and we have plenty of Frenchies."

(This joke is bad, but it's also funny!!
Hope I didn't offend anyone by including it here!)

A guy sticks his head into a barbershop and asks, "How long before I can get a haircut?" The barber looks around the shop and says, "About 2 hours." The guy leaves.

A few days later the same guy sticks his head in the door and asks, "How long before I can get a haircut?" The barber looks around at the shop full of customers and says, "About 3 hours." The guy leaves.

A week later the same guy sticks his head in the shop and asks, "How long before I can get a haircut?" The barber looks around the shop and says, "About an hour and a half." The-guy leaves. The barber, who is intrigued by this time, looks over at a friend in the shop and says; "Hey,Bill.Do me a favor man, follow that guy and see where he goes."

A little while later, Bill comes back into the shop, laughing hysterically. The barber asks, "Bill, where did he go when he left here?" Bill looks up, tears in his eyes and says.... "Your house."

Friday October 8th! Otherwise, you wont get paid!

Eva Sakiagak Audlaluk is back in Salluit now, and still recovering. Therefore, she isn't back at the office yet.

In Kuujuaq, Jeannie Nayoumealuk is working on the editing of the Arpik Jam 2004 programs.

Finally, TNI is having its Annual General Meeting this week, from October 12th to 15th 2004, at the School gymnasium.

Claude Grenier, Akenisie Qumak and Julie Grenier will be traveling to Salluit on the 12th of October. The delegates from each community will be traveling from their respective communities on the 12th also.

Elashuk Pauyungie will also be attending the meeting, as the Programming Manager for the TNI Radio.

The AGM will be a little bit different this year. TNI will be hosting a dinner for all its employees and the delegates, on the evening of October 14th, at the Restaurant in Salluit.

Awards will also be given to some employees and a Board of Director.

Everyone except for Julie Grenier, will be traveling back to their respective communities on the 15th of October. Julie will be spending one extra day in Salluit, seeking some help from everyone, to identify some old photo's.

Have a good long weekend, and a good week!
