This week on Nunavimut: Junior Rangers 2003

This week, on November 16th, and again on November 18th, Nunavimut will be presenting Junior Rangers 2003.

Fishing, hunting game and fowl, making bannock, early morning push-ups, marching drills, dressing straight lines, compass and map reading, treasure hunts, landmark recognition, collecting drinking water, skinning animals, drying meat and so much more can be experienced by the Junior Rangers who attend this camp. Funding provided by National Defense, the many volunteers tell their side on the success of this camp and also provide insight on the positive benefits reaped by the attending youth. The youth also express their love of it all.

Make sure you tune in to APTN on Tuesday, November 16th at either 10:00am, 3:00pm or 6:30pm. You can also tune in and watch it on Thursday, November 18th at 8:00pm.

Happy Birthday

First of all, I would like to extend belated birthday wishes to Andrew Epoo in Kuujuaq. Andrew's birthday was on November 9th, and should have been mentioned last week, but there was no newsletter last week. So on behalf of everyone at TNI, Happy Birthday Andrew!

Another Joke for the week!

An old Italian woman is riding in an elevator in a very lavish New York City Building, when two young and beautiful women get into the elevator, smelling of expensive perfume.

The little Old Italian woman says, "my, what nice aromas"!

One turns to the Old Italian woman and says ARROGANTLY, "Romance" by Ralph Lauren, $150 an ounce!"

The other young and beautiful woman also very ARROGANTLY turns to the old woman saying, "Channel No. 5, $200 an ounce!"

The little Italian woman is feeling very insulted from the remarks made to her.

About 3 floors later, the old Italian woman has reached her destination and is about to get off the elevator. Before she leaves, she looks both beautiful women in the eye, then bends over and farts then says .....

"Broccoli, 49 cents a pound."

which time they will be traveling to Inukjuaq to work on a different production. All three are expected to go back to their respective communities on Monday, November 22nd.

TNI Regional Network Towers

The towers are up, and the tower guys are headin' back home. All the towers were set up in the communities where the foundations were put in. So Salluit, Kangirsujuq, Kangirsuk, Aupaluk, and Kangirsuallujaq now have their towers. Therefore, the two guys that we have come to refer to as "the tower guys" are going back home today, November 15th 2004. By the way, their real names are Serge Castonguay and Daniel Tremblay.

Sick Leave

Eva Sakiagak Audlaluk has extended her sick leave. She still wasn't ready to come back to work, but we should be expecting her return to the office in Salluit in the first week of December.

Seminar at McGill

Julie Grenier will be attending a seminar at McGill on Thursday and Friday, November 18th and 19th. Julie had to apply for funding for it, and the funding request was approved. The title of the seminar is 9 steps to successful Internal Communications. The seminar was suggested to Julie by Larry Watt, the Director of Communications at KRG, who will also be attending.

Meeting with MCCQ

Claude will be meeting with the representative from the "Ministere de la culture et des communications du Quebec", Louis Dallaire on Wednesday November 18th 2004.

That's all for this week folks! See you all again next week!
