"Echo of the last Howl"; A success!!

The premiere of the documentry "Echo of the last Howl", in Kuujjuaq on January 19th 2005 was a huge success. The story received a North American wide media coverage, throughout the week end.

The elders who were present at the premiere spilled their guts out, with everything that they had been holding in for so many years. It was a very emotional event, but it was also relieving for those, who were finally heard.

TPI would like to thank the entire crew, who worked long and hard on making this production a success. "Your efforts have paid off, and only proved even more that we have a wonderful staff, capable of anything. Without you all, this the entire process would have been really hard, and maybe even impossible. Thank you all very much!"

Congradulations

TNI would also like to take the opportunity to congratulate Sandy Tooma, on a job well done in covering the event. The radio program that Sandy put together on the day following the event was very good, and liked by everyone. Congradulations Sandy, keep up the good work.

We will be sending out a press release to everyone, concerning the premiere.

Important Notice

The TNI server in Dorval has been undergoing some major changes in the last week. Jean-Francois Bourque has been working on it since, and has encountered many difficulties.

There is a very large number of corrupt files on the server, and this has prevented Jean-Francois from upgrading Microsoft. The only solution was to reinstall everything, and that is why we are having computer

TNI Regional Network put to test

The Regional Radio network was put to test on January 13th 2005 in Salluit, during one of TNI's regular programs, in the community of Salluit.

Through the satellite, and with the towers, the Salluit crew was able to transfer it's programming and broadcast it on it's very own radio station of 94.1 FM. The test was a success, for the people of Salluit were able to listen to the TNI programming through the frequency.

The same test was also performed successfully in Kangirsuallujuaq on January 18th.

This was a very exciting moment for everyone because it means that we are now on our way to a fully functional regional network.

problems now.

There is a possibility that all TNI employees will encounter some problems with their e-mails for the next couple days. Jean-Francois will be coming to the office to fix the problem, and everything should go back to normal shortly.

For this reason, we still do not know which Nunavimut episode will be featured this week, but as soon as things are up and running again, I will let you know what's on.

Search and Rescue inSalluit

Sandy Kakayuk's son was lost in the Tundra last week, for 3 days. But posed to attend the premiere of "Echo of the last Howl" on behalf of TPI, was unable to make it, due to the fact that it was his nephew who was lost.

Traveling this week

Claude Grenier will be travelling to Kuujuaq this week, from January 25th to January 28th 2005. He will be participating in the Kativik Regional Employment and Training committee meeting. He will also be meeting with other people throughout his stay there.

Bobby Kenuajuaq, who was travelling back to Puvirnituaq on Friday January 21st made it back safely, and is now back at the Puvirnituaq office.

thankfully, a search and rescue team found him, and all is well.

Sandy and Eva Sakiagak Audlaluk, who were not at the office for part of the week last week due to this, are now back.

Also, George Kakayuk, was sup-
